EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- The Herald Sun \(page 8\) reports that Health Minister Mark Butler has defended the Federal Government's bulk billing reforms following a Cleanbill Blue report finding that average out-of-pocket GP visit costs increased by 13.5 per cent in the past year, with Mr Butler questioning the reliability of the data contained in the Cleanbill analysis.
- ABC Online reports that following a recommendation by the Pharmaceutical Benefits Advisory Committee, weight-loss medication Wegovy (semaglutide) will be added to the Pharmaceutical Benefits Scheme significantly reducing its cost for eligible patients, with access to the PBS listing limited to high-risk patients who must have an "established cardiovascular disease" and a BMI of 35 or higher. Also reported by: Herald Sun, West Australian
- The Adelaide Advertiser \(page 1\) reports that the Voluntary Assisted Dying Review Board's annual report has revealed more than 250 South Australians chose to end their lives through euthanasia last financial year, an increase of 150 per cent since its legalisation three years ago.
- The Courier Mail \(page 3\) reports that Queensland Premier David Crisafulli has instructed Queensland Health Minister Tim Nicholls to launch an investigation the death of a baby and the serious injury of another at Toowoomba Hospital's maternity unit.
- The Hobart Mercury \(page 2\) reports that the Australian Nursing and Midwifery Federation (ANMF), supported by the Australian Medical Association (AMA) have criticised the Tasmanian

State Government's plan to enforce a 45-minute transfer of care mandate in Tasmania's public emergency departments, saying it would not fix access or flow and "simply shifts risk onto clinicians already stretched beyond capacity".

- The Townsville Bulletin (page 1) reports that a spike in flu cases in North Queensland that has seen cases hit more than double their five year average, and a rise in deadly soil-borne germs and the return of preventable diseases like measles, is raising concerns that public complacency is winning the "information war" against vaccination.

Fat drug on PBS for obese

Herald Sun, General News, 13/01/2026, Ria Pandey, Page 14

Wegovy will be heavily subsidised for Australians with severe obesity who have also experienced a cardiovascular event, such as a heart attack or stroke. The glucagon-like peptide-1 (GLP-1) class drug is prescription only and used in clinical care for chronic weight management in eligible patients. Interview with Cleanbill CEO James Gillespie about the latest Blue Report on bulk billing. Gillespie says the Federal Government's expanded bulk billing incentive has reversed a long-term decline. He notes that out-of-pocket costs are increasing at clinics that don't bulk bill, while less urbanised states and territories such as Tasmania and the NT have seen larger gains in fully bulk billing due to higher regional incentives.

Queensland patients are paying 12% more to see their doctor than they were just two years ago, as AMA Queensland warns the state's GP network is at a breaking point. President Dr Nick Yim stated that while doctors would prefer to bulk-bill, the 'decade-long failure' of Medicare rebates to keep pace with inflation has made it impossible for many.
